

'Nutella riots' in France after 70% price cut

There have been crazy scenes in supermarkets across France. Shoppers have been fighting and punching each other to buy jars of the hazelnut spread Nutella. A nationwide chain of supermarkets cut the price of it by 70 per cent.

The supermarket Intermarché launched a promotion on 950-gram jars of the sweet treat on January 25. The cost was slashed from €4.50 to €1.41. Long queues formed outside stores, but shoppers lost their cool in the aisles. A witness at one store described the chaos. She told French media: "They fought like animals. A woman had her hair pulled, an elderly lady had a cardboard box put on her head, and another woman had a bloody hand. It was terrible."

The maker of Nutella is an Italian company called Ferrero. It said it had nothing to do with the discount. It tweeted: "The decision for the promotion was taken [only] by Intermarché." It added: "We condemn the consequences of this operation, which created confusion and disappointment among customers." The supermarket has not commented on this story. An employee said: "It was crazy. It seemed like it was the first day of sales. People just rushed in, shoving everyone and breaking things." He added: "It was like a riot. We nearly called the police." A tweeter explained how important Nutella is in France. She said: "French people eat it by the spoonful. I had it on toast for breakfast as a child."

TOPIC

There is never any need to fight for food. Discuss.

Discussion

1. What do you think about what you read?
2. How important are discounts to you?
3. Why do you think the supermarket hasn't commented?
4. Do you like going to sales?
5. What is the best way to eat Nutella and other spreads?
6. What are important foods in your country?
7. What did you have for breakfast as a child?
8. What questions would you like to ask the supermarket boss?
9. What do you know about Nutella?
10. Have you ever seen anything crazy in a supermarket?
11. What's your favourite supermarket, and why?
12. Do you like sweet spreads?
13. What would you do to buy food at a 70% discount?
14. When was the last time you lost your cool?
15. What advice do you have for fighting shoppers?
16. What's the biggest discount you've ever had?

COMPREHENSION QUESTIONS:

1. What kind of scenes did the writer say there were in supermarkets?
2. How big were the jars of Nutella that were being discounted?
3. What did shoppers lose in supermarket aisles?
4. What did a witness say shoppers fought like?
5. What did someone put on an elderly lady's head?
6. What country is the maker of Nutella from?
7. What did the discount create among shoppers besides disappointment?
8. What did the supermarket say about this news?
9. Who did a store worker nearly call?
10. What did a tweeter say she had for breakfast when she was a child?